

Special Feature I: Twenty Years After the End of the Cold War

---

“The End of the Post-Cold War Period”

by Masatsugu Naya 8

—Intellectual currents in the post-Cold War period and their impact on international politics

“The International System: Heading Toward a New Equilibrium?”

by Yoshinobu Yamamoto 27

—It appears that the world, whose old, bilateral balance of power was destroyed by the end of the Cold War, is now progressing toward a new, multilateral balance of power

“The Search For a New World Order”

by Shinichi Kitaoka 46

—The passing of the postwar international system brings a time of transition and new possibilities for Japan

“Japan, From the Bursting of the Land Bubble to the Bursting of the Export Bubble”

by Ryuichiro Matsubara 68

—The current economic crisis has made obvious the mistakes that were made in the analysis of Japan’s economic structure and in subsequent economic policy since the bursting of the real estate bubble in 1992

“Europe: Problems of Identity”

by Wolf Lepenies 92

—Successfully promoting the recognition of Western achievements around the world—not just in the world of Islam—depends decisively on our ability to be self-critical and modest about ourselves

“The Revival of Russia, a Society Built on Sand”

by Shigeki Hakamada 107

—A Russian specialist’s thoughts on the Russian consciousness, psychology, and current intellectual state based on his own experiences

“The Deepening of the ‘Africa Problem’”

by Ricardo Soares de Oliveira 124

—It is unlikely in the medium term that either capitalism or liberal democracy will find a fertile ground in which to prosper in Africa

- “Japanese Politics and the Dissolution of the Cold War Structure”
 by Cheol Hee Park 148
 —The most significant effect of the end of the Cold War in Japan is the chance for the opposition parties to assume power in the not-so-distant future

Essays

- “Admiral Teikichi Hori, the Military Man Who Loved French Literature” by Toru Haga 162
“The Traditionalist Side of Fukuzawa Yukichi”
 by Shuji Takashina 166

Special Feature II: Correspondence on Current Thought

- “The Achievements of Toshihiko Izutsu, Japan’s Leading Scholar of Islam”
 by Satoshi Ikeuchi 172
“Italy, the Coming Shipwreck” by Alexander Stille 180
“On the Populist Impulse in America” by Mark Lilla 193

Essays

- “Mozart’s ‘Requiem’ —Music or Religious Rite?”
 by Hiroshi Watanabe 202
“The Bath, New Center of the Japanese Home”
 by Terunobu Fujimori 206
“The Musashino Plain and Japanese Landscape Painting”
 by Daisaburo Okumoto 210

- “A Conversation with Daniel Bell—Looking Ahead at the New Millennium” 214

- “Comparative Biography for the Modern Age: A New Use of Oral History” (the fourth in a series)
 by Takashi Mikuriya 226
 —What can be learned from looking at how two individuals lived in a certain period, organization, or society

- “Mythology and Dance: An Essay in the History of Civilization” (the second in a series)
 by Masakazu Yamazaki 262
 —An attempt to trace our increasingly universalized contemporary civilization back to far-away ancient history and to see the history of human civilization as a coherent progression.